WILSON LETTER ON TREATY ADVISING DEMOCRATS TO REJECT LODGE RESOLUTION

In That Form It Does Not Provide for Ratification, but Rather for Nullification," the President Tells Senator Hitchcock.

HE text of the letter of President Wilson to Benator Hitchcock advising the rejection of the Peace Treaty with the Lodge reservation in it is as follows:

You were good enough to bring me word that the Democratic Senators supporting the treaty expected to hold a conference before the final vote on the Lodge resolution of ratification and that they would be glad to receive a word of counsel from me.

I should hesitate to offer it in any detail, but I assume that the Senators only desire my judgment upon the all important question of the final vote on the resolution containing the many reservations by Senator Lodge.

On that I cannot hesitate, for in my opinion the resolution in that form does not provide for ratification, but rather for the nullification of the treaty. I sincerely hope that the friends and supporters of the treaty will vote against the Lodge resolution of ratification.

I understand that the door will probably then be open for a genuine resolution of ratification. I trust that all true friends of the treaty will refuse to support the Lodge resolution. Cordially and sincerely WOODROW WILSON.

League of Nations Tied Up, Chances of Aiding Ireland or China Ruined, Says David Lawrence, Analyzing Administration Opinion - U. S. Could Not Offer Its Good Offices.

By David Lawrence.

(Special Correspondent of The Evening World.) WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19 (Copyright 1919) .- President Wilson calls the Lodge resolution a nullification of the Peace Treaty and plainly intimates that after it has failed to get two-thirds votes, another resolution of ratification, which he hopes will be "genuine," can be brought before the Senate.

The President in his letter to Senator Hitchcock does not go into detail as to why he regards the Lodge resolution as a nullification, but 1 am able to present to-day an analysis made by those conversant with his viewpoint, and it is inevitable that the points made shall be incorporated either in a new resolution of ratification or that they shall be put into the Lodge resolution and objectionable parts thereof eliminated when the hour for compromise does arrive.
